
COMMUNITY-UNIVERSITY COLLABORATIONS IN RESEARCH SERIES

Culturally Responsive Research: Refugee, Immigrant & Latino Communities

The Community-University Collaborations in Research series kicks off with a workshop focused on research involving the Immigrant, Refugee and Latino communities in Western New York.

A diverse, community-friendly panel will engage the audience in discussion about perceived barriers to conducting research with these communities.

Attendees will gain a sense of how community engagement and inclusive research is crucial when it comes to developing new and relevant approaches to treatments and interventions. They will also be more informed of ways to participate in these research opportunities.

Light refreshments will be provided. Walk-ins are welcome.

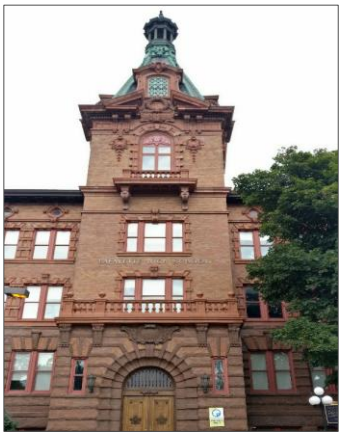
LINK: https://cuc-ril.eventbrite.com

FORMAT: Panel Discussion

DATE: Thursday, September 12

TIME: 3:00 – 5:00 p.m.

LOCATION: Mellen Memorial Auditorium
Lafayette International High School,
370 Lafayette Ave, Buffalo.



For more information, contact

scholar1@buffalo.edu or 716-829-6268.

University at Buffalo
Clinical and Translational Science Institute

PANELISTS

Kafuli Agbemenu, PhD, MPH, RN
Assistant Professor
School of Nursing, UB

Anna Ireland Mongo, PhD
Chief Program Officer
Jericho Road Community Health Center

Jessica Scates
Administrative Coordinator
Community for Global Health Equity, UB

May Shogan
Director of International Exchanges and Education Programs
International Institute of Buffalo

Raul Vazquez, MD
President and CEO
Urban Family Practice

MODERATOR

John Starkey
Principal
Lafayette International High School

EVENT SPONSORS:

Workforce Development Core
Community Engagement Core
KL2 Mentored Career Development Award
UB Clinical and Translational Science Institute

SAY YES TO EDUCATION BUFFALO
sayyesbuffalo.org

CTSI BUFFALO @UBuffaloCTSI