

HANNAH FOGARTY

hrfogart@buffalo.edu

EDUCATION

PhD, English, University at Buffalo, expected 2019

M.A., English, Case Western Reserve University, 2014

B.A., summa cum laude, English, minor in Art History, Kent State University, 2011

FELLOWSHIPS AND AWARDS

Dickens Project Annual Fellowship, University at Buffalo, 2015

Chair's Award in American Literature, University at Buffalo, 2014-2016

Dean's List, Kent State University, 2008-2010

Kent Bound Scholarship, Kent State University, 2008-2010

CONFERENCE PRESENTATIONS

Upcoming: “‘Impression-Picture’: Sensation and Emotion in Thomas Hardy’s The Woodlanders” presenting at the North American Victorian Studies Association, Phoenix, 2-5 November, 2016,

“‘Not intimate enough a contact’: Sensory Experience in The Return of the Soldier” presented at the Death of Empires Interdisciplinary Humanities Conference, Amherst, NY 19 September, 2015.

“‘Tactile values’: Touch and the Transgression of Bodily Boundaries in E.M. Forster’s A Room with a View” presented at the Midwest Modern Language Association, Detroit, 14 November 2014.

“‘Words dont ever fit’: Language and Narrative in William Faulkner’s As I Lay Dying” presented at the Midwest Modern Language Association, Milwaukee, 10 November 2013.

“‘Severed wireends of volition and sentience’: Joe Christmas and the Anæsthetic Body” presented at the Boston College Health, Mental Health, and Literature Graduate Conference, Boston, 8 March 2013.

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Instructor

English 105: Communication Literacy, Fall 2016

English 201: Writing II, University at Buffalo, Spring 2015, Fall 2015, Spring 2016

English 101: Writing I, University at Buffalo, Fall 2014

English 181: Reading Tutorial, Case Western Reserve University, Spring 2014

English 180: Writing Tutorial, Case Western Reserve University, Spring and Fall 2013

Writing Center Consultant

The University at Buffalo Center for Excellence in Writing, Fall 2015-Spring 2016

Case Western Reserve University Writing Resource Center, Fall 2012-Spring 2014

SERVICE

Graduate Recruitment Committee, University at Buffalo, Spring 2016