Summary

The University at Buffalo pays for the reasonable business expenses actually incurred by individuals traveling on official university business in accordance with New York State, Research Foundation, and UB Foundation rules and regulations.

Policy

POLICY STATEMENT

The University at Buffalo (UB, university) will reimburse individuals for actual, reasonable, necessary, appropriate, and approved travel and business expenses incurred while conducting university business.

Reimbursement

Individuals submit expense reports to obtain reimbursement for their travel-related expenses through the travel and expense reimbursement system.

BACKGROUND

The University at Buffalo understands that travel is essential to the teaching, research, and public service missions of the university. UB is committed to meeting the needs of the traveler by reimbursing reasonable business expenses actually incurred by the traveler. To accomplish this, the university must establish cost effective practices that are consistently applied and comply with state, sponsor, and regulatory requirements.

APPLICABILITY

This policy applies to all travel expenses reimbursed and paid from State, Research Foundation (RF), and UB Foundation (UBF) funds.

DEFINITIONS

Official Station

Official station is generally the address of the office to which the employee is assigned; an employee can have only one official station. The designation of official station is determined by the university in the best interest of the university and not for the convenience of the employee.
The purpose of the official station is to determine when the traveler is in travel status and eligible for reimbursement of travel expenses. Travel between the employee’s home and official station is considered commuting and is not reimbursable.

Travel Status
A traveler is in travel status (i.e., eligible for reimbursement of lodging and meal expenses) when he or she is engaged in official university business at a distance of more than 35 miles from the designated official station and place of residence.

RESPONSIBILITY

Vice Presidents, Deans
- Establish a prior approval process for travel, if applicable.
- Communicate funding restrictions for individuals, if applicable.

Supervisors, Principal Investigators
- Be familiar with university travel rules and regulations appropriate to the funding source (i.e., State, RF, UBF, and sponsor requirements).
- Obtain necessary prior approvals for travel, including method of travel, when applicable.
- Authorize travel that is reasonable, necessary, appropriate, and required in the performance of university business.
- Verify that travel reimbursement is within allowable rates and all required documentation is included.
- Review, approve, and submit expense reports in a timely manner.
  - Generally, the authorized approver is one level senior to the traveler, but may be another individual in the department or unit who is not one level senior, but has delegated authority to approve or deny travel expenses. The delegation of approval authority must not allow an employee to approve the expenses of their supervisor.

Travelers, Travel Preparers
- Obtain necessary prior approvals for travel, including method of travel.
- Secure reasonable, necessary, and appropriate method of travel.
- Utilize all tax exempt certificates, as necessary.
- Maintain an accurate record of expenses by scanning or downloading original receipts or documentation (e.g., transportation itinerary, hotel receipts, parking).
- Claim reimbursement only for actual allowed business expenses within reimbursement rates.
- Use credit card programs to minimize out-of-pocket expenses, as applicable.
- Account for any advance, reimbursement received prior to travel, or charges made to a university credit card.
- Prepare the Expense Report in the travel and expense reimbursement system based on the traveler’s itinerary, receipts, and documentation.
- Verify that reimbursement requested complies with university travel policy and departmental restrictions.
Travel Services for State and RF, Accounts Payable for UB Foundation

- Review and process Expense Reports in the travel and expense reimbursement system.
  - Ensure that all expenses are actual, reasonable, in accordance with the business purpose of the trip, and comply with UB, state, RF, and UBF rules and regulations.
  - Review for accuracy, rates, and relation to trip.
  - Comply with Internal Revenue Services (IRS) regulations for identifying non-overnight meals.
  - Verify official station, when necessary.
  - Verify RF requirements including funds, grant dates, purpose of travel, and relationship to grant, as applicable.
- Respond to travel-related questions and provide guidance.
- Provide training on travel procedures and rates.

Tax Exemption Guidelines

State, Research Foundation, and UB Foundation

Each state, funding source, and vendor may have different requirements for accepting tax exempt verification, therefore, it is possible that a particular transaction will not qualify for tax exempt status.

Tax exempt forms for New York State and other states are available on the Administrative Services Gateway in the Forms Catalog.

Meal Eligibility Requirements

State, Research Foundation, and UB Foundation

Eligibility for reimbursement for breakfast and/or dinner requires the traveler to be in travel status, and is determined by the time of departure from the traveler’s official station or home and the time of return to the traveler’s official station or home.

On the day of departure, the traveler is eligible for:

- breakfast, if travel begins before 7:00 a.m.
- dinner, if travel begins before 6:00 p.m.

On the day of return, the traveler is eligible for:

- breakfast, if travel ends after 8:00 a.m.
- dinner, if travel ends after 7:00 p.m.

Breakfast and dinner are reimbursable when they are not paid for or provided; lunch is not reimbursable.

When a breakfast, dinner, banquet, or buffet is included or provided, the meal is not reimbursable.

When a continental breakfast, reception, party, or cocktail party is included or provided, the meal may be reimbursed.

The meeting or conference agenda must be submitted with the Expense Report to verify the meals included.

Eligibility for reimbursement for lodging and meals requires the traveler to be in travel status and meet meal eligibility requirements.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Receipted Lodging Method: The Receipted Lodging Method provides reimbursement of actual lodging costs and an allowance for meals and incidentals based on federal reimbursement rates for the county of lodging. The per diem rates for locations within the continental United States (CONUS) are revised annually. Itemized receipts are required for lodging, but not for meals, when using this method. When travelers attend a conference and the room rate exceeds the federal lodging per diem, documentation confirming the conference single room rate must be attached to the Expense Report to receive reimbursement at a rate greater than the federal lodging per diem. Lodging per diems exclude taxes. Within New York State (NYS), employees must utilize the appropriate tax exempt form. Outside NYS, taxes are reimbursable. Tax exempt forms are available on the Administrative Services Gateway in the Forms Catalog. Each day the traveler is in overnight travel status, the traveler is eligible for reimbursement for lodging up to the maximum lodging per diem and a per diem allowance for meals. The meal per diem is for dinner and breakfast the following morning. For UBF funds, reimbursement for lodging and meals is allowed for the amount of the actual receipt and is not limited to the federal per diem for lodging and meals. The actual receipt must be an itemized receipt. Travelers are also eligible for a meal per diem for breakfast the first travel day and dinner the last travel day if they meet meal eligibility requirements. Breakfast and/or dinner may be reimbursed at the federal per diem for the area where lodging was obtained. The meal per diem is apportioned for breakfast and dinner and includes incidental expenses such as tips to restaurant servers, bellmen, porters, and hotel housekeeping. Only the individual traveler may claim meal per diems.</td>

<tr>
<td>Unreceipted Lodging Method: The Unreceipted Lodging method provides for a per diem rate for meals, lodging and incidental expenses regardless of where lodging is obtained, including lodging with relatives or friends. Rates are established based on the city or county where lodging is obtained or the location to which the employee is traveling (whichever rate is less), and the location must be indicated on the Expense Report. Receipts are not required when using this method. Unreceipted lodging may not be combined with meal receipts for the evening that unreceipted lodging is claimed. Meal Adjustment: When the traveler is in unreceipted overnight travel status but is not eligible for the full per diem (according to meal eligibility requirements), the traveler will receive the full per diem less the allowance for the meal(s). Likewise, if the traveler is entitled to an additional breakfast on the first day of travel or an additional dinner on the last day of travel (according to meal eligibility requirements), the traveler will receive the meal per diem. The meal per diem includes incidental expenses including all tips to restaurant servers, bellmen, porters, and hotel housekeeping.</td>

Travelers with meal receipts are reimbursed up to the Meals and Incidental Expenses (M&IE) per diem specific for the city and time of year of their travel location according to the federal rates. Alcoholic beverages are not reimbursable. The per diem rates may be accessed from the Traveling for Business webpage.

Travelers without meal receipts are reimbursed $5.00 for breakfast and/or $12.00 for dinner.

The IRS considers all non-overnight meal reimbursements (i.e., meals incurred during day trips) to be taxable income. In order to meet this IRS requirement, UB withholds taxes from non-overnight meal reimbursements. Therefore, non-overnight meal reimbursements must be charged to the funding source that pays the employee.

Per person reimbursement for alcoholic beverages is restricted to the lesser of the cost of two alcoholic beverages or $15. Itemized receipt is required.

Gratuity is limited to 20% of the pre-tax total bill. If per diem is applicable, the gratuity must be covered by the per diem maximum.

Transportation – General

State, Research Foundation, and UB Foundation

Travelers should use the most efficient and cost effective method of transportation available. Often, this means using a common carrier such as an airplane, train, bus, taxicab, or ride sharing. The choice of transportation method must be in the best interest of the state, Research Foundation, UB Foundation, and sponsor. Employees should obtain the lowest cost coach equivalent accommodations available.

Direct routes must be chosen with consideration to time and cost, not convenience of the traveler.

Transportation expenses incurred from an employee’s home to their official station are not reimbursable.

When a trip is cancelled:

• at the direction of the university, the traveler will not be responsible for costs incurred
• for the traveler’s convenience, the traveler may be responsible for costs incurred
• non-refundable travel costs may not be charged to a sponsored project

Transportation – Airplane and Amtrak

State, Research Foundation, and UB Foundation

Requests for airfare and Amtrak reimbursement must be made using an Expense Report and include proof of payment (i.e., receipt) and itinerary. This also applies to pre-travel airfare and Amtrak reimbursement requests.

When travelers choose to use their personally-owned vehicle for their convenience, instead of a common carrier, transportation expense reimbursement will be limited to an amount equal to the common carrier coach fare for the same route. A cost comparison between airfare and mileage must be included with the Expense Report. Information on how to prepare a cost comparison is available on the Traveling for Business FAQs webpage.

Travel by Amtrak at a distance of over 200 miles one way may be purchased at the Business Class rate.

Reimbursement for reasonable and necessary baggage fees is allowable with a receipt.

billed directly to a department's state account. All air travel on federally funded projects must comply with the Fly America Act.

Transportation – Personal Vehicle

State, Research Foundation and UB Foundation

A personal vehicle may be used for business-related travel when a UB-owned vehicle or common carrier is not available, is not cost effective, or is otherwise not appropriate. Justification to use a personal vehicle may be required prior to the trip.

All mileage reimbursements must have a specific purpose of travel indicated on the Expense Report. Statements such as “on official business,” “in the course of duties,” “to attend meetings,” are not acceptable. If the mileage is incurred on a regular basis, (e.g., school observations, obtaining research samples), a form letter may be attached to each mileage statement.

Mileage reimbursement rates are determined by the IRS. Charges for gasoline, maintenance, depreciation, insurance, other costs of operating a vehicle, and repairs for damage to the vehicle are included in the federal mileage allowance. The vehicle owner’s insurance is primary for damage to the vehicle(s) in the event of an accident.

Fines, towing charges, violations (e.g., traffic, speeding, parking), and auto club memberships are not reimbursable.

All reasonable and necessary parking and toll charges will be reimbursed whether paid in cash or with a personally-issued EZ Pass. UB may not establish an EZ Pass account for an employee’s personal car.

If an employee chooses to drive their personal vehicle when the cost of airfare is less expensive, only the equivalent cost of coach airfare is reimbursable. Full mileage amounts must be noted on the Expense Report and the coach airfare equivalent must be claimed as reimbursement. Documentation must be provided to support the coach amount.

Only the mileage incurred during the course of daily business for the distance greater than an employee’s normal commute to the employee’s official station can be claimed.

The odometer reading should be used as the official record of mileage in all instances of personal car mileage.

Car mileage is not reimbursable when a traveler uses another individual’s personal vehicle.

Departments and employees are encouraged to use Campus Mail for correspondence and the UB shuttle service in lieu of a personal vehicle to reduce travel expenditures and the impact on the environment.

Additional claims for damage to the other vehicle or other bodily injury may be covered under NYS Public Officers Law Section 17 or the non-owned vehicle coverage.

Transportation - State Vehicle

The university does not have a pool of state vehicles for business travel.

Transportation - Rental Vehicle

Rental vehicles may be used when it is in the best interest of the university, and is considered appropriate when:

- renting is the least costly alternative
- renting is the only method of transportation available
- renting eliminates substantial delays.

New York State (NYS) and the Research Foundation (RF) advise employees to rent vehicles in the name of New York State or the Research Foundation and sign the agreement as agent for the entity of which the employee is traveling. When using UBF funds for payment or reimbursement, rentals should be in the name of New York State. This is to assist in liability concerns, should an accident occur.

Reimbursable expenses include:

- tolls (receipt required for state funded travel)
- parking fees (receipt required for state-funded travel)
- fuel when supported by a receipt
- rental cost when supported by an itemized receipt
- collision damage waiver (CDW) or loss damage waiver (LDW) if not included in the rental agreement or credit card program
- Global Positioning System (GPS) usage charges with a rental vehicle

Non-reimbursable expenses include:

- Personal Accident Insurance (PAI)
- Personal Effects Insurance (PEI)
- Liability Insurance
- traffic fines and violations (e.g., speeding, illegal parking)
- towing charges related to traffic violations (e.g., illegal parking)
- transportation to personal meals

Car rental expenses incurred while attending a conference are usually not reimbursable. Low cost shuttles may be available at the airport for transportation to or from the hotel or conference site. If a shuttle is not available, a taxi or ride sharing is usually the next cost effective form of transportation between the airport and the hotel or conference site. When a car rental is necessary, justification, including a cost comparison, is required.

Every effort should be made to obtain tax exemption. NYS taxes are not reimbursable when state funds are used. NYS taxes may be reimbursable when using RF or UBF funds. Tax exempt forms are available in the Forms Catalog on the Administrative Services Gateway.

Collision Damage Waiver (CDW) must be purchased if not included in the rental agreement or credit card program. If CDW is not obtained, any cost associated with damages to the rental vehicle may be the sole responsibility of the renter. When an accident occurs, the traveler must report it to the rental agency and Travel Services immediately, and complete any reports required by the rental agency. In addition, contact the police to file a police accident report. Failure to comply with the requirements of the rental agency for reporting an accident or damage to the rental vehicle could result in the driver being held personally liable for any costs.

Insurance coverage purchased in the US is generally not recognized outside of the covered territories. Therefore, when traveling outside of the covered territories, it is necessary to purchase the appropriate insurance from the rental agency in the country where the vehicle is rented. It is recommended that the traveler purchase all of the insurance offered by the rental agency.

Personal Travel

State, Research Foundation and UB Foundation

Reimbursement, advance, or payment is not permitted for personal expenses (e.g., hotel, transportation, meals, other personal incidentals) when personal travel is combined with business travel or personal expenses are incurred while in business travel status. Car rental, airport parking, and other costs will be prorated to reimburse only the days the employee was on university business.

If the cost of air travel includes additional stops to accommodate personal travel, a cost comparison must be provided to confirm that the cost of business and personal travel does not exceed the cost of business travel alone; the lesser of the two will be reimbursed.

When travelers choose to use their personally-owned vehicle for their convenience instead of a common carrier, transportation expense reimbursement will be limited to an amount equal to the common carrier coach fare for the same route. A cost comparison between airfare and mileage must be included with the Expense Report.

Information on how to prepare a cost comparison is available on the Traveling for Business FAQs webpage.

Conference Considerations

State, Research Foundation and UB Foundation

When the purpose of travel is to attend an event (e.g., conference, meeting, seminar, training), the brochure, agenda, or program is required to substantiate the:

- Business purpose of the travel
- Dates of the event
- Location of the event
- Meals provided

When meals and/or lodging are provided as part of a conference or event, additional reimbursement is not permitted. Meals that are not provided may be reimbursed in accordance with the meal eligibility requirements.

When travelers attend a conference and the room rate exceeds the federal lodging per diem, documentation confirming the conference single room rate must be attached to the Expense Report to receive reimbursement at a rate greater than the federal lodging per diem. UBF will provide reimbursement based on actual receipt; documentation confirming the single conference room rate is not required.

Car rental expenses incurred while attending a conference are usually not reimbursable. Low cost shuttles may be available at the airport for transportation to/from the hotel/conference site. If a shuttle is not available, a taxi or ride sharing is usually the next cost effective form of transportation between the airport and the hotel/conference site. When a car rental is necessary, a justification, including a cost comparison, is required.

The UB Procurement Card (PCard) or UBF PCard may be used for allowable registration fees.

Social activities (e.g., sightseeing, golf outings) are personal expenses and will not be reimbursed.
International Travel

State, Research Foundation and UB Foundation

Foreign per diem rates provide for lodging up to a maximum amount and an allowance for meals and incidental expenses, including taxes. The traveler is entitled to 20 percent of the foreign meal and incidental per diem for breakfast and 80 percent for dinner. The per diem rates may be accessed from the Traveling for Business webpage.

Rental vehicle insurance purchased in the US is generally not recognized outside the covered territories. Therefore, when traveling outside the covered territories, travelers are advised to purchase all of the insurance offered by the rental agency in the country where the vehicle is rented.

All expenses must be converted to US dollars.
