The oldest sport in North America is Lacrosse. Originally a Native American game, the game of Lacrosse has gained popularity throughout the United States and Canada. Buffalo has one of the most successful teams in North America (The Bandits). The modern indoor lacrosse (Box Lacrosse) that the Bandits play is extremely fast with a lot of hard-hitting action. Played on artificial grass, it’s almost like a mixture of ice hockey and basketball in terms of the rules and the rapid speed of the game. It’s very entertaining, and the action in the audience is just as fun as the action on the field!
