

Finance

Emerging Markets Frontier Markets

- News
- Markets
- Careers
- Life & Style
- Topics
- Video
- Research
- Tools

World | US | Economy | Companies | Tech | Law | Real Estate | Sports

AT&T sees hefty charge on pension accounting change

Article

0 0 Buzz up! Rate this Story 0 0

Print Email Order Reprints Text Size

By Sinead Carew and Dena Aubin | January 13, 2011 12:48 PM EST

AT&T Inc plans to report a $2.7 billion non-cash charge for the fourth quarter due to a pension-related accounting change aimed at making its numbers more transparent for investors.

The telephone operator said on Thursday it would recognize gains and losses from its pension and other post-retirement benefits in the year in which they are incurred, instead of amortizing them over a number of years.

Related Articles

- AT&T to take Q4 $2.7 billion charge on accounting change
- Stock futures flat after rally with jobless claims ahead
- Stock futures flat ahead of jobless data, Intel results

Related Topics

- Verizon Communications Inc.
- AT&T New York

Subscribe to The Economic Monitor

Sign Up

Subscribe to The Economic Monitor to get the day's most relevant news, data and analysis. Sample

the way with a similar change to its accounting announced in November.

AT&T, which runs the second-biggest U.S. mobile service, said it will record a hit of 28 cents a share in the fourth quarter, during which it changed its accounting method.

But the company said the move would not affect its cashflow. It forecast 2011 adjusted benefit costs to be in line with 2010 adjusted levels.

The move gives a better reflection of how AT&T is affected by market conditions of the time, said Chief Financial Officer Rick Lindner.

"It simplifies our benefit plan accounting and makes it easier to understand. It is tied to current market returns, interest rates, and healthcare costs," he said in a conference call with analysts.

The goal of amortizing losses or gains over several years is generally done to avoid big swings in any given year.

Despite the hefty charge and the possibility for more volatility in the company's earnings reports going forward, investors will likely welcome the change, which would make pension gains and losses easier to evaluate, said Piper Jaffray analyst Christopher Larsen.

"It's good news for AT&T shareholders. It will be a little bit easier to figure out what's going on and focus on what's actually happening in their business," he said.

Rivals such as Verizon Communications Inc could potentially follow suit if AT&T shareholders react well to the move, Larsen said. Verizon declined to make an immediate comment.

Another big U.S. company, Honeywell International Inc, a maker of cockpit electronics, led

Must Read

California super storm scenario ripples through the state

Facebook pushes privacy boundary; users push back

ADVERTISE WITH US

Follow IBTimes

- Facebook
- Twitter
- RSS
- Email

Most Popular on Finance

Germany says would support ECB capital increase

Regulators halt HSBC's RAL funding deal with H&R Block

Eurozone to discuss rescue fund capacity on January 17

Wikileaks to release sensitive data on Swiss bank accounts

Full text of John Tsang's speech at Asian Financial Forum 2011

The company said it does not anticipate the need to contribute additional funding to the pension in 2011 as it is currently in compliance with funding requirements.

At the end of 2009, AT&T's pension obligation was $50.85 billion, with $3.977 billion of that unfunded. It has yet to report its 2010 obligations.

Ronald Huefner, a professor of accounting at State University of New York at Buffalo, described AT&T's previous approach as "smoothing."

"Earnings will probably be more volatile. One of the reasons for the rules that we had is that they tried to take the volatility out, recognizing that there would be good years and bad years," Huefner said.

Going forward, all forecasts regarding benefit costs will exclude this gain or loss adjustment to be taken each fourth quarter to reflect actual results, the operator said.

The Dallas, Texas-based company's shares were down 12 cents at $27.92 in early afternoon trading on Nasdaq.

(Reporting by Supantha Mukherjee in Bangalore, Sinead Carew and Dena Aubin in New York; Editing by Roshni Menon, Maureen Bavdek and Gunna Dickson)

Guides and Reports

- Heading for a Divorce? Get Your Finances in Order
- Autoworkers Union Looks to Organize Import Factories
- Why Small Cap Stocks Should Outperform This Year
- Why Do Interest Rates Keep Rising?
- Drug Shortages Across U.S. Put You at Risk

Print Email Order Reprints Text Size

0 0 Buzz up! Rate this Story 0 0

Copyright 2010 Thomson Reuters. All rights reserved.

Most popular Viewed Commented Emailed

Apple iPhone 5 To Sport New A8 Processor With Dual-Core Graphics Architecture

- Eric Coffin: Winter White Sale in the Yukon
- Natural Gas - Daily Technical Forecast
- What is ARkStorm?
- Daily Gold and Silver Report - Gentlemen, Start Your...Houses!
- What are atmospheric rivers? Do they threaten California?
- Cost of Clothing, Food, and Energy are on the Rise
- India's TCS to recruit 37,000 professionals from campuses next fiscal

Discuss this Story

Add comments as guest or Sign in to follow comments

*Name

Security Code

Post Your Comment

ADVERTISE WITH US

IBTIMES OFFERS

THE INTELLIGENT INVESTOR
 FREE EDITION
 Get the day's most relevant news, data and analysis.

FX WIRE PRO
 CLICK HERE TO REGISTER
 Real-time news that moves the currency market

EBUSINESS SOLUTIONS
 TAKE A TOUR
 The complete online business platform for your business

E-Newsletters

Enter Email

We value your privacy. Your email address will not be shared.

Home

- World
- US
- Economy
- Companies
- Tech
- Global Markets
- Education
- Real Estate
- Forex
- Commodities
- Gold

More Sections

- Fashion
- Auto
- Travel
- Health
- Jobs
- Law
- Entertainment
- Sports
- Luxury
- Art
- Books

Tools & Features

- Topics
- Blogs
- Market Data
- Stock Watch List
- Investment Calculator
- Personal Loans
- Financial Glossary
- Broker Center

World Business Headlines

Updates

RSS Feeds
IBTimes on Twitter
IBTimes on Facebook
E-Newsletters

Services

FX Wire Pro
Research
Press Release

About IBTimes

News Licensing
Media Kit
Advertise with Us
About IBTimes
Contact Us
Terms of Service
Privacy Policy

US Edition

© Copyright 2011 International Business Times. All Rights Reserved.