The Capitol Pressroom Program for September 8, 2010

Posted on September 8, 2010 in: PodcastJump To Comments

This is it – school has pretty much started for all public schools across the state of New York. On today’s program we will speak with Tim Kremer of the NYS School Boards Association about cuts in the education budget and raising the cap on charter schools. We speak with two professors about the controversial Islamic Center near Ground Zero. And we will be joined by SUNY chancellor Nancy Zimpher who has suffered a few setbacks over the last few weeks. We discuss her plans for the University. It’s all coming up on the Capitol Pressroom.
