Re: Request to stop tenure clock

Your request to stop your tenure clock due to critical life events (namely, the birth of your child) is approved. You will be placed on a qualified appointment for the 2011/2012 academic year, to compensate for the research time lost to you.

As such, your tenure review date will be advanced by two semesters. Specific questions regarding your new tenure date should be directed to [Redacted] in my office. I hope you find this arrangement satisfactory and encourage you to contact my office should any questions arise.
