School of Management

The School of Management has built an impressive reputation as one of the best business schools in the world. The comprehensive range of its academic portfolio, the expertise of its faculty, and the worldwide success of its graduates are the primary reasons for the school's acclaim.

REPUTATION AND RANKINGS

The UB School of Management is recognized for its emphasis on real-world learning, community and economic impact, and the global perspective of its faculty, students and alumni. In addition, Bloomberg Businessweek, Forbes, Financial Times and U.S. News & World Report have ranked the school among the best in the U.S. for the quality of its programs and the return on investment it provides its graduates.

GLOBAL PREPARATION

The School of Management’s history of innovation abroad includes the launch and operation of the first U.S.-accredited MBA programs in Singapore and China, as well as management education programs in Latvia, Hungary and India.

ACCRREDITED ACCLAIM

Since 1930, the UB School of Management has been continuously accredited by AACSB International - The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business. Among more than 16,000 business schools worldwide, only 727 have earned this prestigious accreditation, long considered to be the hallmark of management education. In addition, the accounting program is one of only 182 programs in the country to achieve this level of recognition.

LEARNING EXCELLENCE

Ten members of our faculty are recipients of the SUNY Chancellor’s Award for Excellence in Teaching, which recognizes outstanding teaching ability through superb classroom performance. These scholars bring to their classes broad interests and current, far-ranging knowledge. They are Arlene Hibschweiler, Ronald Huefner, Arun Jain, Kenneth Kim, Frank Krzystofak, Charles Lindsey, Jerry Newman, Philip Perry, Natalie Simpson and Jason Steinitz.

Strategic Initiatives

LEADERSHIP

Advancing research, teaching and outreach in leadership is a key theme in the school. Through its Center for Leadership and Organizational Effectiveness and innovative programs like LeaderCORE™, the school builds upon its ongoing commitment to develop leaders at all levels of an organization and to prepare the next generation of business leaders.

ENTREPRENEURSHIP

The School of Management helps area entrepreneurs hone their skills through programs offered by the Center for Entrepreneurial Leadership. In addition, the school supports a number of other entrepreneurship initiatives, including UB’s Entrepreneurship Academy, the Entrepreneurship Lab and the Panasonic Technology Entrepreneurship Competition.

HEALTH CARE MANAGEMENT

From joint degree programs in business and health and an MBA concentration in health care management, to increased research ties with the School of Medicine, the School of Management is strategically committed to championing the creation of a UB-wide strategic focus in health care delivery analytics, decision making and policy.
