

Research on Aging: People, Policy, and Practice

Join this series of conversations on aging-related issues focusing on a strengths approach to later life. Once a month, on Thursday afternoons, we will meet to hear about new and ongoing research, promising strategies, and opportunities for collaboration. This series welcomes researchers, service providers, community advocates and others.

"Medicare Part D: Using Research to Inform Practice and Policy

Louanne Bakk, PhD

Director, Institute on Innovative Aging Policy and Practice, and Assistant Professor, School of Social Work, University at Buffalo

with discussant Tony Szczygiel, Esq

Legal Services for the Elderly, Disabled, or Disadvantaged of WNY;
Professor Emeritus and former director, Elder Law Clinic, SUNY Buffalo Law School

Join this discussion to learn more about research and practice-related implications involving Medicare Part D. The presentation will highlight findings relating to disparities in access, and discuss strategies to help older adults maximize savings under this benefit during the open enrollment period - which begins on October 15.

Thursday, October 22, 2015 - 3:00 - 4:30 pm

214 Parker Hall, University at Buffalo, South Campus

Free parking in Parker Lot, access from Winspear Ave

RSVP requested to Laura Mangan at CEPPrsvp@buffalo.edu or call 645-5376

And coming next

"Age and Longer Marriage"

Debra Street, PhD Professor and Chair, UB Sociology

Thursday, November 12, 2015: 3:30-5:00 pm (later start time)

509 O'Brian Hall, UB North Campus

The Institute for Person-Centered Care

UBipcc.com

University at Buffalo
The State University of New York

UB2020 Civic Engagement & Public Policy
Research Initiative

UB2020.buffalo.edu/civic

Institute on Innovative Aging Policy and Practice

<http://tinyurl.com/ml9o5av>

The Research on Aging Series is organized by the UB Civic Engagement and Public Policy Research Initiative, the Institute for Person-Centered Care, and the UB School of Social Work's Institute on Innovative Aging Policy and Practice. Cosponsorship by the UB Gender Institute is gratefully acknowledged.