

Research on Aging: People, Policy, and Practice

A new series of conversations on aging-related issues focusing on a strengths approach to later life. On Thursday afternoons in fall 2014, we will meet to hear about new and ongoing research, promising strategies, and opportunities for collaboration. This series is designed for researchers, service providers, community advocates and others.

"Race, Ethnicity, and Cost-Related Medication Nonadherence: Does Medicare Part D Help?"

Louanne Bakk, PhD

Assistant Professor and Director, Institute for Innovative Aging Policy and Practice,
School of Social Work, University at Buffalo

Thursday, October 23, 2014 ▪ 3:00 - 4:30 pm

107 Capen Hall, Honors College Seminar Room (enter through Library),
University at Buffalo, North Campus

RSVP requested to Laura Mangan at CEPPrsvp@buffalo.edu or call 645-5376

And coming next

Thursday, November 20, 2014: 3:00-4:30 pm

107 Capen Hall, Honors College Seminar Room, UB North

"Healthspan and Frailty in the Elderly"

Bruce R. Troen, MD, Professor of Medicine & Chief of Geriatrics and Palliative
Medicine, UB Medicine and Biomedical Sciences

... forthcoming Spring 2014

"Person-Centered Care: Hearing the Voices of People Living with Dementia"

Davina Porock, PhD, Professor, Associate Dean for Research and Scholarship,
UB School of Nursing, and Director, Institute for Person-Centered Care

The Institute for Person-Centered Care

UBipcc.com

University at Buffalo
The State University of New York
UB2020 Civic Engagement & Public Policy
Research Initiative

UB2020.buffalo.edu/civic

Institute on Innovative Aging Policy and Practice

<http://tinyurl.com/ml9o5av>

The Research on Aging Series is organized by the UB Civic Engagement and Public Policy Research Initiative, the Institute for Person-Centered Care, and the UB School of Social Work's Institute on Innovative Aging Policy and Practice. Cosponsorship by the UB Gender Institute is gratefully acknowledged.