

PhD Program Application to Candidacy (ATC)

To formally become a candidate for the awarding of a PhD degree, students must submit an Application to Candidacy (ATC).

For Degree Conferral on:	February 1	June 1	August 31
RECOMMENDED date to submit ATC to your academic department	September 1 (previous year)	February 1	June 1
ATC due in the Graduate School by:	October 1 (previous year)	March 1	July 1

When should I submit my PhD Application to Candidacy (ATC)?

The ATC can be submitted after you have completed the formal coursework and the PhD Qualifying Process / Paper / Exam as required by your doctoral program. Generally, this will be after approximately four to six semesters of full-time enrollment in the program. Students with transfer credits from another institution may complete the ATC earlier. In any case, at latest, your ATC must be submitted by the deadlines above.

I need to be considered a full-time student but will not be registering full-time (i.e. fewer than 12 credits, or fewer than nine credits with an assistantship). Do I need to file my ATC?

- Yes, to be eligible for certification of full-time status, you must be at or near the “candidacy” stage of your program.
- Therefore, the PhD ATC must be submitted to the Graduate School along with an initial request to be certified as a full-time student.

What happens after I submit my ATC to the Graduate School?

- A preliminary review is conducted by Graduate School staff to make sure all information is accurate and complete. Should there be any immediate issues or questions, you will be contacted.
- When your ATC is formally approved, you will receive a letter from the Dean of the Graduate School confirming your candidacy and detailing final degree requirements.

When will my ATC be approved, so that I can officially refer to myself as a “PhD Degree Candidate”?

You should receive formal approval of your candidacy within one semester of your ATC submission to the Graduate School.

What if my progress or plans change, and I need to change my expected graduation date and/or change my advisor or committee members?

You must file the Change Expected Graduation Term or Amend the ATC \(PhD Students\).

How do I sign up for the graduation / degree conferral ceremony?

Each individual school or college within UB holds its own graduation ceremony. Detailed information is available here: <https://www.buffalo.edu/commencement/ceremonies/degree-conferrals-school.html>
