

Mentor-Protégé Mentoring Workshop Series

The goals of the Mentor-Protégé Mentoring Workshop Series are to enhance mentoring skills, for both mentors and protégés. This series is designed specifically for scientists engaged in clinical and translational research or other related medical fields to provide mentors & protégés with the skills required to reach increased levels of career development and satisfaction.

This workshop series will be delivered as five 1-hour workshops via Zoom during the fall semester. An online platform will also be used to share resources and experiences.

WHO CAN APPLY? The workshop is designed for mentors and protégés, who may participate as a pair or individually. It is open to junior scientists or senior scholars/fellows and their mentors. A CTSI Mentoring Certificate will be issued to participants who attend all workshops. The deadline to apply for this workshop series is September 11. The participants selected to attend will be notified by September 14.
