HEALTH INEQUITIES WORKSHOP SERIES

Introduction to Structural Racism and Medical Racism

This workshop shows how systemic racism and medical racism produce health inequities between Whites and Blacks and people of color. It explores how these structural forces play in causing Whites and Blacks and people of color to live in separate and uneven neighborhoods and how this contributes to race-based health inequities. The workshop also examines how medical racism impacts the health outcomes of Blacks and people of color, contributing to race-based health disparities.
