

FEMINIST RESEARCH ALLIANCE WORKSHOP

Wednesdays @ Noon via Zoom

Libby Otto

Professor
Global Gender and Sexuality Studies

“The Missing Archive:
Bauhaus Designers and the Holocaust”

February 10, 2021

Katharina Azim

Clinical Assistant Professor
Psychology

“Preaching Guilt: Religion and Experiences of Painful Sex in College Women”

March 17, 2021

Hilary Vandebark

PhD Candidate
Global Gender and Sexuality Studies

“Ally or Adversary? Rethinking Feminist
Relationships with the State Post-MeToo”

April 14, 2021

Melinda Lemke

Assistant Professor
Graduate School of Education

“Researching the Margins: Feminist Critical
Policy Analysis as a Framework of the Center”

May 5, 2021

WOMEN IN STEM COOPERATIVE
inspire. grow. connect.

7th Annual Summit: Inclusive Pedagogy

Wednesday,
March 24, 2021

WiSC Webinar Series: Helping STEM Students Thrive

12:00 - 1:30 p.m. via Zoom

February 18, 2021: Persisting During COVID-19

March 18, 2021: Research and Publication in COVID Times

For more information, visit: <https://.buffalo.edu/womeninstem.html>

SUPPORT THE GENDER INSTITUTE

To make a donation with a credit card, please visit www.buffalo.edu/genderin/support0

Your donation allows us to continue funding emerging feminist scholarship and research projects by undergraduate and graduate students as well as faculty.

We are especially appreciative of your support amid COVID-19.

STAY CONNECTED

@UBGenderIn

UB Gender Institute

UBGenderInstitute

UB Gender Institute

Gender Matters

UB Gender Institute
Spring 2021 Events Calendar

 University at Buffalo
Gender Institute

207 UB Commons
520 Lee Entrance Ste 207
Buffalo NY 14228
716-645-5200
www.buffalo.edu/genderin

Signature Lectures

LORETTA ROSS

Wednesday,
February 17, 2021
Noon (EST)
Via Zoom

“Calling In, Not Calling Out”

What if instead of calling people out, we called them in? Professor Loretta J. Ross is challenging call-out culture. Ross will explore how call-out culture has become toxic and transformed conversations that could otherwise be learning opportunities into sparring matches. How do we uphold our commitment to social justice while resisting the pull of the outrage cycle? Ross will discuss how we can build a unified and strategic human rights movement that uses our differences as a platform for modeling a positive future built on justice and the politics of love, thus shifting away from a past based on the politics of fear and prejudice.

Ross is an award-winning, nationally-recognized expert on racism and racial justice, women’s rights, and human rights. She is the co-founder of SisterSong: Women of Color Reproductive Justice Collective and co-author with Rickie Solinger of Reproductive Justice: An Introduction. She is a visiting associate professor at Smith College. Her current book, Calling In the Calling Out Culture, is forthcoming in 2021.

RSVP: <https://bit.ly/RossLecture>

Part of the “Let’s Talk About Race” Series presented by

BARBARA SMITH

Wednesday,
March 10, 2021
7:00 p.m.
Via Zoom

An Evening of Conversation with Lillian Williams

Barbara Smith is one of the most important Black feminists in our time. In 1974, she co-founded the Combahee River Collective in Boston, and she co-authored their now famous Combahee River Collective Statement in 1977, which became one of the earliest explorations of the intersection of multiple oppressions, including racism and heterosexism. Smith and Audre Lorde co-founded Kitchen Table: Women of Color Press in 1980. Kitchen Table later published her collection Home Girls: A Black Feminist Anthology (1983). Her groundbreaking essay, “Toward a Black Feminist Criticism,” opened the door to serious critical consideration of Black women writers. Her most recent book is the award-winning Ain’t Gonna Let Nobody Turn Me Around: Forty Years of Movement Building with Barbara Smith.

RSVP: <https://bit.ly/BarbaraSmithLecture>

This event is a collaboration with the Department of Transnational Studies and their 2021 Endowed African American Studies Lecture.

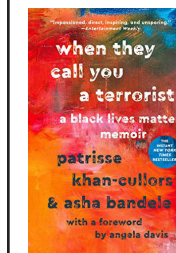

Black Lives Matter Book Club

The Gender Institute is proud to launch a virtual book club featuring the work of Black feminist scholars, public intellectuals, and activists during the 2020-2021 academic year. The Gender Institute is committed to highlighting and supporting Black feminist scholarship, especially during this moment of reckoning with systemic racism.

For more information, visit:

<http://www.buffalo.edu/genderin/events/BLMBookClub.html>

Registration is required: <https://bit.ly/GIBookClub>

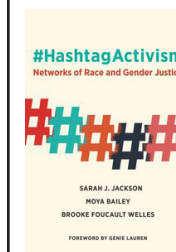

Patrisse Khan-Cullors and asha bandale
When They Call You a Terrorist: A Black Lives Matter Memoir

Thursday, February 18, 2021

7:00 p.m. via Zoom

Facilitator: Ebehitale Imobhio,
Master’s of Public Health Candidate

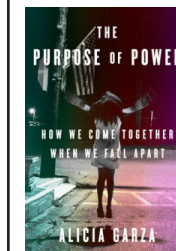

Sarah J. Jackson, Moya Bailey, and Brooke Foucault Welles
#Hashtag Activism: Networks of Race and Gender Justice

Thursday, March 18, 2021

7:00 p.m. via Zoom

Facilitator: Pasha Agoes
PhD Candidate, Transnational Studies

Alicia Garza
The Purpose of Power: How We Come Together When We Fall Apart

Thursday, April 8, 2021

7:00 p.m. via Zoom

Facilitator: Sarah Quiñones,
PhD Student, Epidemiology and Environmental Health

We ask that all participants commit to respectful and open engagement as well as mindfulness of others.