

ENGLISH LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY ATTESTATION

Sponsors of J-1 students are responsible for verifying and documenting that prospective students have sufficient English language proficiency to participate successfully in the proposed program and function on a day-to-day basis. The student's English proficiency should be determined by an objective measurement, such as a recognized English language test (TOEFL or IELTS) or interview conducted by the department official in person, by video conference or, if unavailable, by telephone.

Documentation of the sponsor's determination of English proficiency must be submitted to and maintained by the sponsor for three years following the completion of the program.
