

Seth Moore

Institute for Myelin and Glia Exploration
PhD Student, Feltri Lab

Seth Moore received his B.S. degree in Biological Sciences from Cornell University in 2015. After graduating, he became a Laboratory Technician/Assistant working under Dr. Jessica MacDonald at Syracuse University until 2018.

In 2018, Seth began his MD/PhD degree at the Jacobs School of Medicine and Biomedical Sciences at University at Buffalo. Currently, he is working as a PhD student in the laboratory of Dr. M. Laura Feltri in the Institute for Myelin and Glia Exploration.