Preamble

University disciplinary processes allow the University to take appropriate action when a student's conduct directly and/or significantly interferes with the University's primary educational responsibility, which is ensuring that all members of its community have the opportunity to attain their educational objectives in accordance with the institution's mandate. These regulations governing student behavior have been formulated to be reasonable and realistic for all students.

When a student has been apprehended for the violation of a law in the community, the state, or nation, it is the University's position not to request or agree to special consideration for the student because of their student status. It should be understood that the University is not a law enforcement agency. At the same time, the University does not conceive of itself as a "sanctuary" for law breakers. The University has always been and should continue to be concerned that whenever students are involved in legal problems they be adequately advised and represented by qualified counsel.

A university, especially a State University subject to constitutional requirements, must guarantee students the rights which the society and its laws protect. A United States university guarantees its students these rights on campus.

Students who violate a local ordinance, or any law, risk the legal penalties prescribed by civil authorities. However, violation of law for which the student pays the penalty will not necessarily involve a violation of academic standards or rules of the University. The University cannot be held responsible for off-campus activities of its individual students but maintains an interest in all behavior, whether on- or off-campus, which may adversely affect the University. In cases involving violations of the law which occur off campus, the University may be concerned with the incidents which, by their nature, adversely affect the University's educational mission.

In any University disciplinary procedure one of the highest priorities of the University is to safeguard the student's right to due process. Due process is not an evasive legal concept but rather simply requires the rudimentary elements of "fair play" in an administrative proceeding. To this end:

- All University disciplinary procedures will at least afford the accused student a clear statement of the charges and the nature of the information upon which the charges are based.
- The accused student shall be given the chance to have a fair hearing, and present their own position, information and explanation.
- No disciplinary action will be taken unless the charges are substantiated by the preponderance of evidence.

Courts have indicated that if these minimal elements of "fair play" are fulfilled, the defendant will have been afforded due process under the law.

All campuses of the State University, including the University at Buffalo, engage in periodic review of their policies to ensure they comply with current applicable case law and other legal mandates. The entire State University of New York (SUNY) system operates under the SUNY Board of Trustees mandate that, “no student, faculty, or other staff member or authorized visitor shall be subject to any limitation or penalty solely for the expression of [their] view nor for having assembled with others for such purpose” (8 NYCRR Section 535.4).

In summary, the University expects and asks for its members no greater or no less freedom or liberty than exists for other persons in society. The University's position, therefore, is not to request or agree to special consideration because of the student's status. The University will not interfere with law enforcement and other agencies. As part of its educational mandate, it will be concerned about student rehabilitation and contribution to campus and society now and into the future.

In addition, illegal conduct off-campus may be adjudicated on campus as a violation of the Student Code of Conduct, and students outside of the United States may be held responsible on campus for violations of the laws of the country where they are visiting/residing.
2. University regulations and procedures shall determine the composition of judicial bodies and determine which judicial body shall be authorized to hear each case.

The University Police Officers have the authority of police officers, including the authority to make arrests; they are empowered to enforce these regulations and all applicable laws on University premises. Among their powers are the power to execute warrants; the power to stop, identify and interrogate individuals; and the power to issue appearance tickets.

Campus Disciplinary Action

Students referred for violations of the Student Code of Conduct are subject to disciplinary action through Student Conduct and Advocacy. The Director of Student Conduct and Advocacy will decide on the appropriate judicial body. A student may be referred to the Student-Wide Judiciary (SWJ), or to an administrative hearing. Both the SWJ and the administrative hearing officers act under the discretion of Student Conduct and Advocacy.

1. Student-Wide Judiciary: The SWJ is comprised of Justices and University Hearing Representatives. Justices are appointed by their respective student governments. University Hearing Representatives are students working for the Student Conduct and Advocacy. Students meet with Hearing Representatives to resolve a referral. Both parties appear before a Justice for a formal review of the agreement, or, if no agreement is forthcoming, either party may initiate a group consultation with the Justice. If no agreement is possible, either party may request a hearing panel of Justices. Hearing panels follow specific rules of procedure and the findings of the Justices are final and binding pending the appropriate appeal process. The SWJ Rules of Procedure are available at the following website: <http://www.buffalo.edu/studentlife/life-on-campus/community/rules/violations/student-wide-judiciary.html>

Students accused of a violation of the Student Code of Conduct may choose an administrative hearing in place of the SWJ.

2. Administrative Hearing: The Director of Student Conduct and Advocacy (or designee) selects at least two persons in an administrative capacity at the University to provide a disciplinary hearing opportunity for a current (or former) student with pending campus disciplinary charges. The procedures for administrative hearings are available at the following website: <https://www.buffalo.edu/studentlife/life-on-campus/community/rules/violations/administrative-hearing>
3. Bill of Rights for Sexual Misconduct/Violence Against Women Act: UB is committed to ensuring that victims of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence and/or stalking can obtain assistance and redress. University members are encouraged to read the Student's Bill of Rights available at the following website: <https://www.buffalo.edu/equity/obtaining-assistance/sex-discrimination-and-sexual-harassment/sexual-assault--domestic-violence--dating-violence-and-stalking/sexual-violence-victim-survivor-bill-of-rights.html>

http://www.suny.edu/sunyp/documents.cfm?doc_id=351.

ARTICLE 5: UNIVERSITY STANDARDS

The university is committed to the ideal of flexibility and diversity in the educational experience. Certain regulatory procedures are necessary, however, to ensure that the complex needs of a large student body in search of diverse educational goals are met efficiently and smoothly. As a condition of enrollment, students are responsible for reviewing, understanding, and abiding by the university's regulations, procedures, requirements, and deadlines as described in official publications, including the university's course catalog(s), UB websites, and official university e-mail communications. Asserting a lack of knowledge of university regulations will not be accepted as a basis for an exception to these regulations.

1. Academic Dishonesty: Definitions relating to academic integrity are located at the following websites: <https://catalog.buffalo.edu/policies/integrity.html> and <https://grad.buffalo.edu/succeed/current-students/policy-library.html>. Recent academic policy updates are located at the following website: <https://www.buffalo.edu/educationalaffairs.html>.
2. Discrimination and Harassment: The University at Buffalo prohibits discrimination and harassment and requires that accommodations be provided to individuals when such accommodations are reasonable and necessary as a result of an individual's victim status. The complete Discrimination and Harassment Policy is located online at the following website: <https://www.buffalo.edu/administrative-services/policy1/ub-policy-lib/discrimination-harassment.html>.
3. Medical Excuses: Responsibility for class attendance and for completing assignments rests primarily with the student, who assumes this responsibility by communicating directly with faculty. The Excuse Note for Missing Class or Work Policy is located at the following website: <https://www.buffalo.edu/studentlife/who-we-are/policies/excuse-note-for-missing-class-or-work-policy.html>
4. Involuntary Leave of Absence: The University at Buffalo is committed to the safety, health and well-being of the campus community. The University recognizes that students may experience situations that significantly limit their ability to function successfully or safely in their role as students. In such circumstances, students should consider requesting a leave of absence. A leave of absence permits students to take a break from the University and their studies, so that they may address the issues that led to the need for the leave and later return to the University with an enhanced opportunity to achieve their educational goals. Students will be given the option to take a voluntary leave of absence before a decision is made with respect to an involuntary leave. The Involuntary Leave of Absence policy is located at the following website: <http://www.buffalo.edu/studentlife/life-on-campus/community/rules.html>
5. Drugs, Narcotics, and Alcohol: Possession / sale without prescription / medical authorization of any narcotic, barbiturate, or other illegal or controlled substance is contrary to federal and/or state law. Any student found to be in illegal possession of drugs must be reported to the appropriate civil authorities and may also be subject to disciplinary action by the University. Information regarding Alcohol may be found in the Drug Free Schools & Communities Act section of this document. Possession or use of marijuana on campus, including marijuana obtained pursuant to a medical prescription, is a violation of federal law and therefore is prohibited.

6. Loitering and Trespassing:

- A. Under New York Penal Law, Section 240.35, subdivision 5, a person is guilty of loitering when they loiter or remains in or about a school, college or University building or grounds, not having any reason or relationship involving custody of or responsibility for a pupil or student or any specific, legitimate reason for being there, and not having written permission from any person authorized to grant the same.

The Title IX policy and procedure can be found at the following website: <http://www.buffalo.edu/equity/obtaining-assistance/sex-discrimination-and-sexual-harassment/title-ix.html>

E. Good Samaritan/Amnesty Policies:

- i. Sexual Misconduct: The health and safety of every student is of utmost importance. The University at Buffalo recognizes that students who have been drinking and/or using drugs (whether such use is voluntary or involuntary) at the time that violence, including but not limited to domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, or sexual assault occurs may be hesitant to report such incidents due to fear of potential consequences for their own conduct. The University at Buffalo strongly encourages students to report incidents of domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, or sexual assault to institution officials. A bystander acting in good faith or a reporting individual acting in good faith that discloses any incident of domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, or sexual assault to University at Buffalo officials or law enforcement will not be subject to the University at Buffalo's code of conduct action for violations of alcohol and/or drug use policies occurring at or near the time of the commission of the domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, or sexual assault.
- ii. Hazing: The University recognizes that students may be reluctant to report hazing activity due to a fear of potential consequences for their own conduct. Therefore, a student who acts in good faith to report activity that may fall within the definition of hazing and who cooperates fully as a witness in the investigation and student conduct process may not be subject to student conduct sanctions related to their own participation in hazing behavior, as determined by the University in its sole discretion. In the event amnesty is granted for self-reported behaviors, if evidence is presented that the student has continued to engage in hazing behaviors, or has knowledge of hazing activity that was not reported, they may be held accountable for past behavior. Students who choose to report and request amnesty for their own conduct under this policy should know that amnesty does not apply to any criminal or civil action that may be taken by a law enforcement or other agency, including University Police.

Further information regarding the general Good Samaritan Policy can be found at this website: <http://www.buffalo.edu/studentlife/life-on-campus/safety/good-samaritan-policy.html>.

- F. Definition of Affirmative Consent: Affirmative consent is a knowing, voluntary, and mutual decision among all participants to engage in sexual activity. Consent can be given by words or actions, as long as those words or actions create clear permission regarding willingness to engage in the sexual activity. Silence or lack of resistance, in and of itself, does not demonstrate consent. The definition of consent does not vary based upon a participant's sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression.
- Consent to any sexual act or prior consensual sexual activity between or with any party does not necessarily constitute consent to any other sexual act.
 - Consent is required regardless of whether the person initiating the act is under the influence of drugs and/or alcohol.
 - Consent may be initially given but withdrawn at any time.
 - Consent cannot be given when a person is incapacitated, which occurs when an individual lacks the ability to knowingly choose to participate in sexual activity. Incapacitation may be caused by the lack of consciousness or being asleep, being involuntarily restrained, or if an individual otherwise cannot consent. Depending on the degree of intoxication, someone who is under the influence of alcohol, drugs, or other intoxicants may be incapacitated and therefore unable to consent.
 - Consent cannot be given when it is the result of any coercion, intimidation, force, or threat of harm.
 - When consent is withdrawn or can no longer be given, sexual activity must stop.
- G. Information on Security Procedures: The campus community is advised and updated on safety and security through a variety of methods. These include publication of the Annual Security report, which focuses on crime awareness and personal safety. The report is printed annually and can be found at the following website: <http://www.buffalo.edu/police/reporting/see-a-report/annual-report.html>.

2. Bias Crimes Prevention Compliance Statement: It is a University at Buffalo Police mandate to protect all members of the University community by preventing and prosecuting bias or hate crimes that occur within the campus's jurisdiction.

Hate crimes, also called bias crimes or bias-related crimes, are criminal activity motivated by the perpetrator's bias or attitude against an individual victim or group based on race, religion, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, ethnicity, national origin, or disability.

Perpetrators who are students will be subject to campus disciplinary procedures where sanctions including dismissal are possible.

In addition to preventing and prosecuting hate/bias crimes, the University Police assist in addressing bias-related activities that do not rise to the level of a crime. These activities, referred to as bias incidents and defined by the University as acts of bigotry, harassment, or intimidation directed at a member or group within the University at Buffalo community based on race, color, national origin, sex, religion, age, disability, gender, pregnancy, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, predisposing genetic characteristics, marital status, familial status, veteran status, military status, domestic violence victim status, or ex-offender status, may be addressed through the University's Discrimination and Harassment Policy or the campus conduct code. Bias incidents can be reported to the University Police as well as to the Office of Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion.

Failure

to do so may result in conduct charges by the University. The University may review the facts underlying the arrest to determine if there is a corresponding policy violation.
