

JORGE J. E. GRACIA, SAMUEL P. CAPEN CHAIR LECTURES ON RACE AND ETHNICITY

“Writing Latinas into Philosophical History”

STEPHANIE RIVERA BERRUZ

William Paterson University

OCTOBER 11, 2017

Wednesday, 4:00 p.m.

640 Clemens Hall North Campus
University at Buffalo

As a UB Philosophy Alum, Stephanie Rivera Berruz’s main interests lie in social and political philosophy with an emphasis on philosophy of race, feminist philosophy, and Latin American philosophy. She approaches these topics at their intersections as she is committed to the importance of diverse approaches to philosophical praxis. Her research has explored racial and gendered embodiment, the relationship between language and identity, the concept of boomerang perception in Latina feminist scholarship, and the metaphilosophical question of Latin American philosophy.

Stephanie Rivera Berruz

TEACHING INTERESTS:

Social and Political Philosophy; Latin American Philosophy; Caribbean Philosophy; Philosophy of Justice; Philosophy of Human Rights; Philosophy of Race.

LEARN MORE:

WWW.BUFFALO.EDU/CAPENCHAIR

University at Buffalo
The State University of New York