Proclamation of Gratitude and Commendation

WHEREAS, President Dr. Satish K. Tripathi has dedicated twenty-two distinguished years of visionary leadership, scholarly excellence, and steadfast commitment to the University at Buffalo (UB), including fifteen as president; and

WHEREAS, under President Tripathi's stewardship, UB has experienced remarkable growth in academic programs, research initiatives, student success, and community partnership, thereby strengthening its reputation as a premier public research university; and

WHEREAS, President Tripathi has championed the core values of inclusivity, integrity, and collaboration, fostering an environment where faculty, staff, and students are empowered to pursue innovative teaching, learning, and discovery; and

WHEREAS, the President's unwavering support for faculty development, interdisciplinary scholarship, and shared governance has enriched the intellectual climate of the campus and amplified the impact of our collective work; and

WHEREAS, President Tripathi's leadership during times of challenge-including financial constraints, public health crises, and evolving higher-education landscapes-has been marked by resilience, transparency, and a steadfast focus on the university's mission;

NOW, THEREFORE, on behalf of the Faculty Senate of the University at Buffalo, we do hereby proclaim our deepest gratitude and highest commendation to President Satish K. Tripathi for his exemplary service, inspirational leadership, and enduring contributions to the University community.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that this proclamation be entered into the official records of the University at Buffalo and disseminated to the entire UB community as a testament to the profound respect and appreciation held for President Tripathi's many years of dedicated service.

Adopted this 28th day of April, 2026, by the Faculty Senate of the University at Buffalo.
