This event will incorporate inclusive excellence by:

1. Being (re)introduced to diversity theories and models that help guide our daily interactions with others across difference and identifying ways to infuse theory into our practice.
2. Increasing awareness of how one's multiple identities impact their work at UB and recognizing the importance of multicultural competency of our campus.
3. Engaging in diversity and inclusion related conversations among and between colleagues and identifying institutional policies and procedures that help create and build an inclusive campus community.
